

Introduction to Youth Work

Our Introduction to Youth Work course was designed and delivered in partnership with Your Edge Training and tutor Paul Hogan. We have worked with Paul for a number of years and he has delivered a range of courses on our behalf from Paediatric First Aid to an Introduction to Construction. Paul has experience as a Youth Worker for Liverpool City Council and has delivered this training to their youth workers.

The course content included:

- Qualities needed to be a youth worker
- Safeguarding young people
- Risk assessing your activities
- Planning an activity for young people

We were able to use our networks to promote this course to learners interested in getting into Youth Work as well as those already engaged in the field, but who were looking to formalise their training.

Our initial hopes were that we could progress learner directly onto a Level 2 qualification delivered by Liverpool Adult Learning Service before the end of the academic year in July 2022.

Unfortunately it has taken longer to sort out and the qualification will now not start until September. However, we have been able to assess the work our learners completed during their Introduction course and we are delighted that they have achieved two units towards the overall qualification.
